As a member of the ASDI Breeder's List, you will receive:

1. A breeders listing on the Breeders information handout, in the breed/club information packet which is mailed to inquiries made of the club.
2. Discount of full page advertising in the club newsletter.
With a newsletter ad: You automatically get a web page on the club website. This can be updated with new photos and ad materials for 4 months or until the next newsletter comes out.
3. You get two copies of the club newsletter automatically, instead of just one.
4. Your COE Breeder status is listed on the club web page and links go from the home page of ASDI to the COE listing.
If you have a current newsletter ad, your web listing from the COE page goes directly to your FREE web page.
If you did not have a current advertisement in the newsletter, for the same rate as a full page ad, you can still have one on the club web page.
5. If you have internet services and an email address, you are automatically added to the club mailing list. This consists of all email that is sent to the club; regarding breed information inquiries, potential puppy reservation inquiries and any requests for training information needed.

It is important to understand that Web Services for the COE members are considered a perk for remaining in good standing with COE year after year. Thus once you join (any time of the year) - if the COE fee lapses at the end of a calendar year, all web advertising perks for the following year also lapse until after the publication of the next newsletter issue in which you are back in good standing.
